

Dear FCC Commissioners & Staff:

Our local phone service provider--Ameritech here, but others serving our family and friends-- cares little about us or others in Ohio. Why would we or you trust them to provide us tomorrow's fast Internet service? Their focus is bottom line-- rather than providing us with customer-friendly DSL-support, and service. Please don't let these folk have their way in their focus on high profits which would leave us as consumers and citizens without the fastest Internet service we need to move forward and keep the information and communication flowing among all the American people. Keep our local and caring, independent national Internet Service Providers, strong to insure we keep these profit-first businesses in their place-- behind the people that make the US the innovative, energetic, and real nation that we are proud to be. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Bill and Mary Lou Meers
